

PASS AND BURR TO FACE COURT

Pair Held on Murder Charge to Have Preliminary Hearing Monday

Jack Pass and Gus Burr, charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting of William Ogden, chauffeur and former service man, who died as the result of a pistol wound in the thigh, will appear for preliminary hearing Monday morning. The hearing will be held before Judge D. R. Roberts of the city court.

County Attorney Joseph R. Bates will represent the state in the action. Attorney W. H. Reeder, Jr., will appear as counsel for the defendants. Attorney Reeder has declined making any statement relative to his plans for defense of the two men. Attorney Bates has not disclosed any of his plans for the prosecution. Both, however, have indicated that interesting phases will be brought before the court during the hearing.

Pass and Burr are strictly without remorse. It is stated, as the result of the outcome of the pistol shot, Pass is reported by the police, has admitted that the revolver was in his hands when it was discharged.

It is rumored in police circles that a dying statement of William Ogden will play an important part in the hearing. Just what effect the statement is likely to have towards the conviction of the men is not known.

Is Your Blood Starving for Iron? —Then Eat Spinach and Apples And Re-enforce Them With a Little Organic Iron Instead Of Taking Stimulating Medicines

If your house were falling down as a result of a bad foundation you would not waste your time by merely propping it up, but you would replace and strengthen the foundation. Iron is the foundation of your blood. When your blood is starving for iron no mere tonic or stimulants can get you the proper amount of good iron. For without iron your blood cannot absorb and assimilate your food and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good. You do not get the strength out of it. To get organic iron you must eat the foods that contain it and the foods of grains as our forefathers did, or take organic iron from time to time and eat more such iron-containing foods as spinach and apples. But be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron or mineral iron which people usually take as metallic iron. Iron is not as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Look for an entirely different thing from organic iron.

Canadian Representative Acts as Volunteer Spokesman at League Meeting

GENEVA, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Although the United States is not represented by a delegate in the assembly of the League of Nations there is hardly a session in which the United States is not referred to by the speaker or the speaker's stand in the assembly. Mr. B. B. Bache, Canadian representative, acted as volunteer spokesman for the United States at the meeting.

"Canada," said Mr. Bache, "will ever remain to any such interference." "You cannot expect the great country to the south of Canada to become a party to the league if there is any intention that the league can interfere in the internal affairs."

Senator "Bitch" of Idaho, replying, regretted that the delegate took such a radical position on a subject he thought ought to be discussed.

Today's session concluded the first stage of the assembly's work. The agenda now is in the hands of the committee, which are expected to report early on questions susceptible of quick solution, so that the full session can act on these while committee continues their work.

The assembly committee began its labors today in open session. Christian Lunde, of Norway and Dr. Wellington Koo, of China, gave a general sketch of the work. The former suggested that the committee should be authorized to adopt to cause limitations of armaments was the budget.

Dr. Du Cunha of Brazil introduced a resolution providing that the committee should be authorized to cause limitations of armaments was the budget.

Dr. Koo said it was necessary to go slowly to progress surely. He said that the United States and Russia were members of the league and that other countries which it would be necessary to consult are out of the league.

The L. J. Leishman company today moved into its new quarters at 2100 Wall avenue. The object of the change is to provide manufacturing space for some of the company's products which have heretofore been manufactured in the east, and other new products which are to be placed on the market about the first of the year.

The company is installing the only die cast machine in the state of Utah, which is to be used in manufacturing their popular priced adding machines, which are sold throughout the United States and in twenty-nine foreign countries.

The company has recently perfected three new and novel electric window signs which will also manufacture in the new quarters.

The offices of the company will be on the ground floor, and the manufacturing will be done in the large basement provided for the purpose.

WESTERN PACIFIC BUYS DENVER & RIO GRANDE RAILROAD FOR $5,000,000 CASH AT FORCED SALE

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 20.—Representatives of the Western Pacific railroad bought the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at a forced sale here today.

The sale price was $5,000,000 cash. The purchasers also agreed to assume $14,125,000 obligations of the Rio Grande.

The men who acted for the Western Pacific in the purchase were: Joseph F. Bowler of New York, general counsel for the Western Pacific; John B. Marsh and Ralph M. Arkush, all of New York. The amount for which the road was sold was the minimum amount set by the United States district court in its order for the sale of the Rio Grande.

BOUGHT FOR RAILROAD—Mr. Bowler announced to the Associated Press a few minutes after the sale had been made that he had bought the property for the Western Pacific Railroad corporation, the holding corporation for the Denver and Rio Grande railroad company and the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. He said there was no definite plan to combine the Denver and Rio Grande with the Western Pacific properties and that the properties may be operated as separate lines.

"The roads of course," said he, "will be under control of the same management and will be closely aligned." No provision was made to take care of the stockholders of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. Mr. Bowler said. The stock, common and preferred, amounts to $87,775,676.

SALE IS PROTESTED—Attorney G. F. Carmine, of Denver, representing the D. and R. G. stockholders' protective committee, read a formal protest against the sale.

Mr. Carmine attempted to interrupt the special master to begin reading his protest but was silenced by Mr. Bowler, who advised him "do not interrupt the master."

UTAH RAILROAD RIGHTS—Attorney George L. Nye, of Denver, also read a formal notice regarding certain contract rights of the Utah Railroad company.

Asked after the sale if there had been any provision made to take care of the stockholders of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad company, Mr. Bowler replied: "They will get nothing." The proceedings of the sale occupied about 49 minutes. Just as the noon whistle blew in the factories surrounding the red brick D. and R. G. freight house where the sale was held, Special Master William A. Jackson began reading the formal notice of the sale. There were approximately 4,000 words in this notice. At exactly 12:45 o'clock he announced that the road had been sold to Messrs. Bowler, Marsh and Arkush.

The sale was held just outside the offices of the freight house and the financiers, attorneys and others who attended the sale were kept busy dog-

LODGE GIVES KIDNAPER GLAD VIEWS ON LEAGUE IT'S ALL OVER

Wilson Plan Dead by Vote of Citizens. Senator Declares

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—With President Wilson's league of nations dead so far as the United States is concerned by the verdict of the people it is for the Harding administration and its supporters in congress to bring about some arrangement with other nations to promote world peace without involving changes in our constitution and our constitutional system, said Senator Lodge in a speech tonight.

"The responsibility is great," he continued, "but we do not shrink from it."

He said the people, while as earnest in advancing the cause of peace as any in the world, had shown they could best serve the cause by remaining masters of their own fate.

"The Republican party in its platform," he said, "declared its policy to be the establishment of an arrangement or agreement with foreign nations for the promotion of peace. They condemned the covenant of the league brought from Paris by Mr. Wilson and approved the action of the senate in opposing it. Mr. Cox declared he was ready to go into the league. Senator Harding declared he was opposed to going in. The people by a majority in the neighborhood of seven million approved the attitude of Mr. Harding and of the Republican party."

"The people have answered therefore, that they will not accept or support Mr. Wilson's league. So far as the United States is concerned the league is dead, for the court from which there is no appeal has spoken."

"The Republican party in its platform left the future open. They declined to bind themselves as to their attitude upon a question like that of the league, which necessarily would be greatly affected by the changing conditions of Europe. Mr. Harding and the Republican party are therefore entirely free to deal with this question after March 4, 1921, unhampered by any platform promises and they propose to do so in accordance with Senator Harding's declarations."

Recent Rains Make Duck Hunting Bad

Recent rains, while making ducks fly faster and oftener, have been detrimental to duck shooting, according to a number of sportsmen who have been hunting during the past few days. While the shooting itself was as good as could be expected, considerable difficulty in getting over heavy, muddy roads, has been a drawback, they said.

It is expected that when freeing weather hardens the roads that shooting conditions, so far as traveling to the sloughs and marshes, will be materially bettered.
